3rd Revision	WP#3, 58th ACM, 09/12/2020
2nd Revision	Minute Sheet dated 7April, 2014
1st Revision	WP#30, 32nd ACM, 24/02/2010

Background

1. The subject policy was first introduced in 2010 and got refined in 2014. After six years of implementation, in 2020, the policy was revisited. The purpose to revise the subject policy in the year 2020 was to minimize the practice of hiring TVFs and improve research productivity. A study was conducted to analyze the outcomes of the revised policy, and both versions were compared. Based on the analysis, certain modifications have been proposed to ensure quality teaching along with research and administrative duties. These revisions will ensure optimal engagement of available faculty.

Proposed Policy

2. Overall Faculty Load (per semester)
   a. The minimum load for a faculty member in a regular semester should be around 12 CHs, including teaching, research, and institutional services.
   b. The load for newly joined faculty members will be 8 CH per regular semester during the first year of service (including all kinds of leaves).

(1) Newly joined faculty members (inexperienced) are the ones who have completed their terminal degree in last 2 years.

3. Teaching Load (per semester)

a. The minimum mandatory teaching load for the faculty member will be 3 CHs of teaching in each semester. Overall teaching load requirement will be ascertained based on the following calculations:

(1) Minimum teaching load per semester = 12 – Research Load – Institutional Services.

(2) Minimum teaching load per semester for newly joined FM = 8 – Research Load – Institutional Services.

b. Miscellaneous Modalities

(1) Minimum Class Size: For the award of teaching load to a faculty member teaching class with less than 8 students, the case may be processed for approval of Pro-Rector(A) through Acad Dte with justification. Principals should encourage that courses being offered at the PG level must attract the required number of students, i.e., 8.

(2) If faculty is teaching two or more different courses in one semester, an additional 1 CH will be counted in teaching load.

(3) If faculty is teaching 'reading and research' course, 1 CH will be counted in teaching load.

(4) In summer semester, only those faculty will be paid remuneration, who have taken required faculty load in regular semesters. Moreover, any deficiency in the teaching load preferably be fulfilled through course offering in summer semester.

(5) Calculation of teaching load will be done on semesterly basis, however, overall evaluation of the faculty teaching load will be done on yearly basis by Acad Dte.

(6) Summer semester contributions will also be reflected in the AAR.

4. Research Load (per semester)

a. The research load will vary from 0 to 6 CH equivalent load.

b. For supervision of PhD students:

(1) 1 CH equivalent load per student per semester will be given to the supervisor from the date of admission till PPCM / thesis submission.

(2) 0.5 CH equivalent load per student per semester will be given to the co-supervisor from the formulation of GEC till PPCM / thesis submission.

c. For supervision of an MS/MBA/equivalent student, 0.75 CH equivalent load per student per semester will be given from the formulation of GEC till final defense.

d. For supervision of FYP student / group: 0.30 CH equivalent load will be given for supervising each FYP group per semester.

e. Funding (Research Projects/Consultancies/Trainings/etc): Only funding being credited to NUST will be considered for award of CHEL. Moreover, mobility grants will not be counted towards overall funding calculation. Funding will be divided over semesters for calculation of load in each semester:

	Upto 1 Mil per semester	Upto 5 Mil per semster	Uto 10 M per semester	More than 10 M per semester
Principal Investigator	1	1.5	2	3
Co-Principal Investigator	0.5	0.75	1	1.5
Member	0.25	0.4	0.5	0.75

Institutional Services Load (per semester)

f. Assoc Dean/Director Acad (CEME) will be given 4 CH equivalent load

g. Maximum permissible institutional services load can go up to 3 CH. The guidelines for allocating institutional serviced load is as follow:

(1) HoDs and NUST Journal Editors in Chief (EIC) will be given 3 CH equivalent load

(2) DCE, UG/PG Program Heads / Program Coordinators, Program Directors, DLQEC, Project Directors of PC-1s and Student Coordinators will be given 3 CH equivalent load

(3) Head of Institution has the discretion to assign up to 1 CH equivalent load per FM to any institutional service, i.e., IFPI, Alumni Coordination, FYP Coordinator, Student Advisor, LPC member, etc.

(4) HoI has the discretion to give 3 CHs equivalent load as institutional services, to the top 5% prolific researchers of the respective institution.

(5) Pro Rector (Academics) can assign up to 3 CH equivalent load per semester to any faculty for any specialized assignment.

Applicability

5. The policy will be applicable w.e.f Fall 2022.
